Help the Children

A World Projects Partner

In January 2015, Access Services was pleased to receive an update from Anna Dossatell, a representative from one of our primary partners, Help the Children. Anna met with us to speak about the growth that the organization had experienced as well as the impact that Access Services provides. She emphasized the need for continued efforts in order to sustain the organization and for us to continue to do our part in this endeavor.

Revenue & Support

Access Services is proud to announce that 2014 was a year of great success and growth for the organization. We are grateful for the continued support of our many constituents, including our individual donors, foundations, corporations, and businesses.

Day Services:

Day Services provided valuable support to individuals in their transition to independence by offering a variety of programs and services, including education, employment, and community involvement. The organization faced many challenges during the year, including budget cuts and increased demand for services. Despite these challenges, Day Services continued to provide high-quality services to help individuals reach their goals.

Family Support Services:

Family Support Services provided direct and indirect supportive services for families, including counseling, education, and advocacy. The team worked closely with families to help them navigate the complexities of the support system and develop strategies to meet their needs.

Access Services:

Access Services continued to develop innovative programs and services to meet the needs of individuals with disabilities. The organization focused on expanding its reach through partnerships with local governments, businesses, and community organizations.

Fundraising:

Fundraising efforts were successful, with the organization exceeding its fundraising goals. This was made possible through the support of individual donors, foundations, and corporations. The organization's goal is to continue to grow its donor base and increase its impact in the community.

In closing, we would like to thank all of our partners, donors, and volunteers for their continued support. Your generosity and commitment have made a significant difference in the lives of individuals with disabilities and their families.

Hope4Tomorrow

A Teen Suicide Prevention Program

Access Services’ Children’s Crisis Support Program, Teen Talk Line, and Mind Your Mind, in partnership with the Montgomery County Office of Behavioral Health, teamed up for a teen suicide prevention project called Hope4Tomorrow. Throughout the dozens of high schools in Bucks and Montgomery Counties, a team of young, laypeople shared their personal stories of struggle and hope to connect with youth facing a mental illness and suicide.

The program’s presentation was featured in high schools across the county to students and families. The goal of this program is to empower and educate young adults about the signs and symptoms of mental illness and suicide. The presentation included stories of hope and recovery, as well as strategies for dealing with these issues.

In summary, 2015 was a year of growth and progress for Access Services. Our organization continues to evolve and adapt to meet the needs of individuals with disabilities in our community. We are grateful for the support of our constituents and look forward to continuing to provide high-quality services in the years to come.

Twining Life

Enrichment Through Volunteering

Twining Life is a program designed to help young adults with intellectual disabilities develop life skills and gain self-sufficiency. The program provides opportunities for young adults to engage in community service and learn valuable life skills.

The program provides a variety of volunteer opportunities, including mentoring, tutoring, and community service projects. Participants are encouraged to engage in a variety of activities, such as tutoring, working with children, and volunteering at local organizations.

In conclusion, the success of the Access Services’ Enrichment Through Volunteering program is due to the hard work and dedication of all involved. We look forward to continuing to provide this valuable program to young adults with intellectual disabilities in the future.
